SSE International Ltd. Policy Statement on RoHS.

EC Directive 2002/95/95EC

The Restriction of the Use of certain Substances in Electrical and Electronic Equipment RoHS

SSE International has carried out a thorough investigation of the implications of EU Directive 2002/95/95EC on the Restrictions of the Use of certain Hazardous Substances in Electrical and Electronic Equipment (RoHS). As a result of this investigation and research the Company has prepared the following Statement.

SSE International Ltd. are Compliant with RoHS for the following reasons

Stockholding.

As a Manufacturer of Ferrous and Non Ferrous Pipe Fittings providing components to Stockists, Sub Contractors, Fabricators, and End Users to be further processed into a wide range of piping systems throughout the oil and petrochemical industry. The components as supplied by SSE International fall outside the requirements of this Directive. As none of the materials supplied are covered in Article 3 (a) of the Directive.

Manufacturing.

As a Manufacturer of “components” for supply to the Oil and Petrochemical Industry the components produced by SSE International fall outside the requirements of this Directive. As none of the “components” produced are covered by Article 3 (a) of the Directive. These Components when further processed are for specific projects and not put on the open market.
